THE LIGHT

in the Light

The school year brought much change to Northwestern's campus. The new dorm opened up and Zwemer's face lift was finished. As we went to class, to the coffee house, out with friends, and so on, we slowly began to understand the importance of each day. Yes, at times things were chaotic and frustrating, and classes at times appeared impossible. We survived, and soon realized that our faith had been strengthened. We left with a better grasp of what it means to walk in the Light.

a look at People

Below: Jamie Schmelling and Kim McGlone...now there is some cool people.

Right: YMCA...yes, jars are made of clay.

Right: Robin VanGinkel, Jill Davelaar, Keli Loyd, Aaron VanRoekel, Renee Wynia, Marcy Vos, and Amanda Reeves...what a crazy bunch!

Below: Members of the Administration dance their way through their version of "You are my Sonshine". Don't the matching outfits add personality?!?

Left: Northwestern's Science Dept. had a breakthrough...and...Brian Rock (Rock0) and Dave Wenell (Diamond Dave) are the proud expecting mothers. Congratulations boys!

Right: "Geeze, I have to go back to my room to get what?" -asks a very confused freshmen.

Below: "I hope this doesn't make it in the yearbook. I'd hate for any of the freshmen guys to see it," think three freshmen in Hospers.

Above: Kelly Killian carries in some of his stuff....if you look close enough, you can see the muscles in his arm.

Journey 2000

On August 24, 1996, members of the class of 2000 made their journey to Northwestern to begin their college careers. The 354 freshmen found much to do the first few days at NWC due to the creative planning of the Orientation Staff. Besides getting their identification pictures taken and finalizing registration, new students were involved in playing games in the RSC, watching the Midnight Show, getting to know their classmates, watching the Orientation Show, making ice cream sundaes, and enjoying a picnic at the Bultmans. After participating in these activities, freshmen were victims of initiation. To promote community, initiation was performed as one big event as all dorms were involved together this year in their activities.

Way Out West

Mud Volleyball, Western Line Dance Lessons, Roommate Game, Coronation, Air Band Contest, Morning on the Green, Homecoming Dance, and, of course, the football game were all activities held during Homecoming Week. Students got to put on their western wear to enjoy the activities associated with the week as the theme was "Way Out West".

Alumni and students will remember the warm weather at the football game where fans witnessed the Red Raiders beat Nebraska Wesleyan 35-18. Crowned as king and queen were Graig Bears and Emily Van Donslear.

After all of the activities had been concluded, alumni and students will remember going way out west for Homecoming 1996.

In October and January, students begin to miss their families. Each October and January, students can invite their families to campus for a special weekend of family bonding time.

"Taking Steps Together" was the theme for Parent's Weekend in October. During the weekend, students took their parents to sporting events, the Parent's Day Concert, and the Children's Play. Parents of the year were also recognized during this weekend. Receiving the honor were Myra De Haan's parents, Stan and Ruth De Haan.

Sibling Weekend was January 24-26 under the theme of "A Weekend to Treasure." Activities during the weekend included the Kid's Karnival, the Muppets movie "Treasure Island", the Sibling Olympics, and the Sibling Dance.

Northwestern families enjoy spending time together during these weekends. Students could "take steps together" with their parents or have "a weekend to treasure" with their siblings.

Shadows of Time

Before Spring Break, students and faculty had the chance to relieve mid-term stress by participating in Winter Carnival activities. Festivities for "Shadows of Time" began on Monday with the All Tied Up Dinner. Students signed up to eat in the Dewitt Dining Hall with one exception, they had to have both hands tied to another person. Wednesday brought the excitement of the Newlywed Game to the RSC. Besides newlyweds, the game also featured maturely weds and nearly weds from campus. Activities concluded on Saturday night with the most anticipated event of the week, the ballroom dance. Dancing to music provided by the Jazz Band, students and faculty got to put on formal attire to ballroom dance the night away.

Let the Good Times Roll

The Northwestern Campus "Let the Good Times Roll" during the annual Springfest Activities. The good times began rolling on Monday with a challenge course on the lawn of Fern Smith during the supper hours. Students were challenged as they had to jump over, crawl under, climb up, and climb down various obstacles during the activity. The Roommate Game provided laughter for all in the RSC on Wednesday as roommates found out how much they knew about each other. Friday night brought the last dance of the year where students enjoyed some end of the year fun with their friends. The much anticipated Battle of the Mighty Floyd was held on Saturday along with a picnic in Alton.

Students enjoyed the Springfest Activities as they were glad to be able to let the good times roll one last time before the end of the year!

Concerts and Fun

Do you ever wonder who plans all of the fun activities that happen on campus? The Student Activities Council is very busy from the spring before school starts to the end of the school year planning some of these fun and exciting activities.

The biggest event the SAC planned for this year was the Big Tent Revival Concert. Grammatrain and Jackson Finch opened for Big Tent in the crowded and excitement-filled mini-gym.

The SAC also planned the Urban Street Level Coffeehouse, a pizza study break during spring finals, and helped sponsor the Continental Singers. The council also planned many fun activities off campus for students and staff. One of these trips was to the Omaha Zoo.

By planning these activities, the SAC made the year at Northwestern more enjoyable and memorable for all.

Top Left: Apparently what is in Scott Winters beverage is not in the beverages of Deb Spoelstra, Kristi Ten Clay, Maria Olson, and Josh Pyle.

Memories of 96-97

Memorable moments were created by many events on campus. One event that was memorable was Freshman Initiation. For the first time, freshmen participated in the events together. Male and female freshmen had to go through the same acts of initiation instead of each dorm going through different activities.

Participation in the annual event of the Great White North was not hindered by the cold January weather. The men ran through the dorms and buildings showing off their bare skin.

The campus also got a chance to explore other cultures during the Ethnic Fair. Sponsored by the International Club, the fair provided the opportunity to experience international food, clothing, and customs.

These events certainly did help make the year of 1996-97 a memorable one.

Class of 1997

Sliding down the halls in VPH with few clothes on, making naked snow angels, road trips to Truck Haven, and pulling all-nighters are just some of the memories that the Class of 1997 is leaving behind. May 10, 1997, was the day the members of this class had been looking forward to the moment they arrived as freshmen.

Family and friends filled the RSC Mini-Gym to watch as their loved one received their diploma after many years of hard work. The commencement address, "And You Thought You Were Done With Bib Faith," was given by Dr. Paul Schaefer. Receiving Distinguished Faculty Awards were: Andy Ellingson, Julie Vermeer, and Brad Moss.

Although this class leaves many great memories behind to face an uncertain future, they will always cherish the time they had at NWC.

FOOTBALL

The Northwestern football team advanced to the quarterfinal round of the NAIA div. II national playoffs before losing to second-ranked University of Sioux Falls. Overall, the Red Raiders won the Nebraska-Iowa Athletic Conference title with a 5-1 mark and were ranked twelfth at the end of the season. Also, the Northwestern defense was ranked fifth in the nation in total yards allowed per game.

"This team did some amazing things," said Coach Otten, "like winning the conference championship when we were picked by the coaches to be no better than third, and beating (NCAA 1-AA) Drake when people didn't think we should be on the same field. This was one of the most unified teams I've seen; everybody worked together. The players, managers and coaches all had the kind of attitude that was very enjoyable to be around, an encouraging attitude."

"The team grew a lot over the course of the year. we had a lot of young guys, especially on the offensive line, who stepped up and grew into college varsity players. They also grew as people--we had situations on and off the field that caused suffering, and we persisted through it, maintained our focus and learned that we can persevere through a lot of difficulties," said Otten. Orv Otten is in his second year as head coach.

Volleyball

The Raiders started their season 2-0, then struggled to match successful seasons of the past. Early in the season, the number of wins and losses rose equally. Midway through the season, when, at 18-13, the Raiders had won only five more matches than they lost. "It was a season of ups and downs," says Coach Meyer. "It took awhile for the team to gel, for them to gain confidence in themselves and in each other. Once they did that, they began playing to the potential we knew this team had."

The Raiders went on to win 13 of the next 14 matches, finishing 23-14 for the regular season. They swept the NIAC Tournament for the third consecutive year and the Great Plains Regional Tournament for the second straight year, defeating higher-ranked rivals Doane, Hastings, and Dordt College along the way. The Raiders finished their season at the NAIA national tournament for the third consecutive year, the fifth time in the last six seasons. Their final record was 31-18.

Men's Basketball

When asked at the beginning of the season about his thoughts on the men's basketball team, Coach Todd Barry replied, "We feel we have some athleticism and can get up and down the floor. We should be a stronger team defensively; I hope we're going to be stronger in rebounding. If we can play good defense, control the boards and take care of the ball, we can be a good team." These goals were accomplished and the Red Raiders ended with a winning season. Their final record was 16-13.

A number of Raiders were honored this season for their athletic achievements. Graig Bears and Cam Olson were both named First Team All-NIAC players and they recieved an All-America Honorable Mention. Graig Bears and Brad Moss were named NAIA Scholar-Athletes. Graig Bears was named to the GTE All-American second team.

Team unity was an important factor in keeping team morale up when they were plagued with injuries. "we've surpassed my expectations this season. We've seemed to gel and bond well," says senior Chad Nelson. "The way we've come together has been a key to the season. And we won a number of close games early in the year, which gave us confidence that we can come back and win in the fourth quarter."

WRESTLING

The Northwestern wrestling team compiled a 7-4-1 dual meet record during the 1996-1997 season, the best finish in school history. Four Raiders earned All-American honors at Nationals; two others qualified for the meet.

"In light of how thin we were in terms of depth at weights, it was a remarkable year," said Coach Bartlett, who completed his 13th season at the helm. "I'm amazed that we wrestled as well as we did as a team. A lot of the guys were willing to sacrifice in order to help the team--wrestling at weights they weren't comfortable at or when not fully healthy--and that was a factor in our success. I'm so proud of this team."

Cinderella

Every year the Children's Play is the feature event of Northwestern's Theatre Department. Cinderella was the chosen play this year. For many freshmen, Cinderella was their first theatrical performance in college. The Children's Play is a welcoming environment for beginning actors and actresses. For three student designers the Children's Play was also a first. Senior Dawn Whitke had the chance to show her talent in lighting design during the play. As a directed study, Senior Kris Kling had the opportunity to design the set for Cinderella, complete with a moving carriage. The Children's Play was also the first opportunity for Junior Laura Ferguson to display her skills with design. Working with guest Penny Steele, Ferguson designed the costumes. Doctor Keith Allen, director of the Children's Play, was happy with the many performances the cast put on for the young and old.

Arcadia

In the Fall of 1996, the first ever Senior Theatre Ensemble gathered together. It was a large grouping of ten seniors, all looking forward to working together as a team to direct and star in their own major production. Under the guiding hand of Prof. Karen Barker the students decided to tackle Tom Stoppard's Arcadia. With others in the department helping out here and there the Seniors successfully put together a three hour long production in a very short amount of time. The Seniors this year are: Heidi Yost, Sara Dawn Veldhuizen, Tina Carbone, Kris Hanson, Paul Leinheiser, Dawn Wittke, Jason Medina, Samantha Chen, Jennifer Waldhart, and Craig Barnes.

Inheritors

Inheritors (1921) is a play about a college that was born out of a man's vision of a place that would teach the boys and girls cornfields to be better thinkers, and thus better people. Inheritors is about nationalism. It is about compromise. It is about out. It is about dreaming. It is about leaving a legacy. It is about us. In Silas Morton's words: "Why, the buffalo here be was more than we if we do nothing but prosper! (May) God damn us if we sit here rich and fat and forget man's in the ma Indeed.

Persons attempting to find a motive in this narrative will be prosecuted. Persons attempting to find a moral in it will be banished. Persons attempting to find a plot in it will be shot. By order of the author Mark Twain.

Sold out for all but one performance, Big River was the talk of campus. Big River is a musical based on the book Huckle Finn by Mark Twain. Directed by Jeff Barker, and Music direction by Tim McGarvey, the overall production was exciting and entertaining.

DME

The Drama Ministries Ensemble or DME as they are commonly known, spent the 1996-1997 season performing Rebecca's Story. Rebecca's Story is the true story of Rebecca Hanson and her family. The "tale" touches on her father's addiction to cocaine, and her grandmother's chunky soup. The story was scripted by Jeff Barker, director of the ensemble. DME took the show on the road throughout Minnesota and Wisconsin during spring break, sharing the story with churches and schools along the way. The campus had the opportunity to attend a performance as part of a double chapel night. The process of sharing personal testimonies was an experience none of the performers will ever forget, nor will those who witnessed the chapel performance easily forget the freely given testimony of love and faith.

Ministry

Many opportunities for ministry are offered here at NWC. Almost anything you are interested in can be an area of ministry.

Ministry groups serve the campus, local community as well as the region and even the world with Summer of Service trips.

This year the addition of the ministry house has provided the campus with a new meeting place and a spiritual center. Other groups on campus have found it useful for a meeting place for example Spanish Chapel, a new event on campus this year (held completely in spanish) met in the campus house.

We learn to be "In the Light" by ministering.

SERVICE

Every Spring Break all the big red vans and every other vehicle Northwestern owns head out across the country.

These trips provide students with opportunities to serve, to experience new places, and to get to know their fellow students a little better. Whether friends take the trip together or friends are made along the way, the memories will last forever. The experience of serving others is an unforgettable way of giving of yourself.

Students this year traveled to a wide range of locations. The list of locations included were: Philadelphia, California, New York, Montana, New Hampshire, Denver, Texas, New Orleans, and Mexico.

We learn to be "In the Light" by reaching out to others.

Academics

In the classroom students listen, take notes, take tests, discuss ideas, and expand their minds.

Outside of the classroom students put their knowledge to work. Academic clubs help students to understand the connection between the classroom and life.

Academic Support Services provide students with opportunities of helping their fellow students with the knowledge that they have gained.

Clubs like the Education Club, Phi Beta Lambda, and Social Work Club are designed to let students interact with fellow majors sharing ideas and further learning outside of the classroom.

We learn to be "In the Light" by broadening our minds.

Residence Life

When in your life do you get a chance to live down the hall from twenty of your closest friends? Only in college.

Late night chats, singing in the shower with your friends, stealing your friends robe while their showering, trying to fall asleep when the whole wing is screaming in the hall, courtesy calls. . . What could be better?

The college experience is complemented by the experience of living with others. Dealing with people at their best and at their worst teaches many life lessons. Living with twenty people each with a different approach to life, makes life pretty interesting.

Never again in your life will your home be the same one as everyone you ever want to talk to at 2:00 a.m. Never again will your shower be the same one that twenty other people use. Never again will you be surrounded by so many faces of love.

We learn to be "In the Light" through fellowship with others.

Organizations

What better opportunity of meeting people do you have than joining a club? Campus clubs and organizations give students an opportunity to make friends outside of their floor or in classes.

Clubs give students a chance to be involved in extracurricular activities. A chance to have a good excuse to get away from the books. Campus groups encompass a wide spectrum of interests and activities ranging from FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) to KQNW (the campus radio station).

Meaningful relationships as well as skills learned from working with others are gained through these organizations. Students become actively involved in campus life through activities such as organizing the campus activities (SAC), and making sure student voices are heard (SGA).

We learn to be "In the Light" by growing together.

in the Light

As the yearbook staff reflected on the 96-97 school year we realized just how fast we all had been walking. It has been a crazy year for sure. It is our hope, no matter what your favorite memory of the school year is, that this yearbook will bring back all of the fun, silly, exciting, and interesting things that have made your life more full. We hope that you enjoy looking at this yearbook as much as we did putting it together. May this book bring back memories for a long time.

Blessings,

IN THE LIGHT

As we reflect on the year that has passed and try to make sense of what it means, we know one thing for sure - the goals that we achieved, the memories that we made, and the friends that we have grown to love will remain in our memories forever. The future may seem scary and unclear but one thing is for certain . . . if we walk in the Light we will be successful.
